WOULD BRAND THIEVES. edine Bill Non Pending in the tentucky Legistature, acce was recuity introduced la live tooky legislature a bill provid-for the branding of all bargins ore economized to the penal matter of the state. The measure di-that all such convicts shall have ther "P" branded on both checks has their licearceration. The pur-of the father of the bill is to sepa-De criminals from honest men. His probable fale is a problem. It is many supporters and many

in and will reform under project it

dso, they argue, drive men to more lesperate crimes after their rebase for the brands would be a barrier to a life of anything save rrime. Of course, the mark would be valuable frequently us a means of identification. For in-stance, if a Kentucky gentleman should from a swelable game of American draw at his clab, or some other little entertainment, and should meet a strange man lu the ball carrying off the family plate and valuables, all he would have to do toverify blesuspicians would have to do loverity his suspicional that the man was a burglar roudil be to look at his cheeks, anys the New York Journal. If the letter "I" shood out branded an yach aide, he need doubt to longer. The lutrider is a thief, and to prove his identity the state of Kentucky has burned in its infiliativit that this lay is his sequence vocation. they not require in tenning that the thisying is his regular vocation.

On the other hand, it is not impossible in these days of ingenuity and invention to circumvent the designs of Problemes in the form of the official brander of the state, Skin grafting is the pulling of an aching molar, and the released convict could, at a reasonable expense, have the brand ent out and now skin grafted in its place. And thus would the ends of justice be defeated. There are arguments on both sides of the measure, and the supporters of each will loss them at each other with vehicusence and carnestuess when the bill comes up for passage. HAS HIS HANDS FULL.

The Task tudestaken by Geeree's New Periodes in Serbons. Demetrius Rall, the Greeian hero of the hour, is by far the greatest man in Atheus to-day. He has supplanted M.

Belyannis as premier, and his counsels are more respected among the piquilace than those of the king himself. The forema-1 with the people, and it is said. that his commands are respected even at the palace itself. Balll is the man to whom all tirecee is building at the pro

A DOWN EAST LETTER,

Casco Terrare, Faimouth Foreside, M.

We had not thought much of going "Down East" this season. There had been no provocation for it. It was not a seasonaide auggestion. Howbelt we went, and we took the lst flay of July bet our depart-ure. There were too many Torreys in Woymouth, anyway, and the existing of hall a dozen or so would, we thought, create no marked hinns. It is not a difficult matter to travel after ome gets into practice. Packing franks is the hardest thing, and that is underless painful by being systematic. After one has left behind those household, gods most dently worshipped, and permits this to ardealty worshipped, and permits this to be repeated annually, be begins to realize that something must be done, some better method adopted and our latvest plan has been to make memoranda from time to time weeks belore going of even the most tribing thing. Then at the bas B is easy to entire them together, and "season" the programme tribing thing. Then at the bas B is easy to entire them together, and "season" the first tribing thing. We guidish elsowhere some interesting tax figures received from the assessors. The tax rate it will be seen his reached a point never before known in the history of the town and it is hoped we have resched the maximum tigges. Causes widelclove led up to this high rate ar where nave return to this high rate are minerous and are worthly if careful con-sideration. First, for several successive years there has been a material shrinkary in personal property which of course re-duces the total valuation. "Again we have carried on many extensive impro ments and in some Justances exceeded the appropriation made for the same Another faction which has entered in has been the hard times and excessive expend tain extent a rousdallou in the fact thu many towns around us have a light rate; but the greater consolation is in this, by the present high rate we superout all over drafts and excesses which loave been dragged along for several years and have now a conquiratively small town deld. There is another considing feature in the report and it is found in a gain of $77,000 in valuation. The fature of the town lies in an increased valuation and in keeping expenses to the lowest limit lest with a proper naintenance of schools, rouls and other necessities.

A little boy drapped his dramstick nto a well. In valu he entreated his purents, the garleure, the footman, the reachman, the rook, the housemalds to go down into the well to recover his drumstick. In his distress, says the Landon Tolegraph, a brilliant expedient perurred to Master Tammy—he secret-ly rarried off all tha plate from the ily rarried off nil tha pinte from the sidelegari and threw it into the wril. Great was the consternation when the plate was adssed, and an arrive search for the robbers took place. In the midst of the alarm and the confusion Master Tommy ran with the news that he had found the plate. "Where?" was the cry, "Down the well," replied Tomny. "I saw it quite plain shining at the bottom—spoons, ladles, brend baskels, salvers and ult." The housemaid hurbal to the well of the bottom of which ried to the well, at the bottom of which ried in the will, at the notion of which, sure enough, the jdate was seen. A laddry was procured, a servant discended and the jdate was brought up. Just before the last article was fished up Master Tominy whispered in hine: "John, jdease bring up my dramstick when you go down for the soup ladle."

It fumbled in his pockets, found a tensent piece, gave it to Arthur, and A RTHER NORTHRIBIDE was dis-couraged. Silling on the lop of a broken-down alone wall, he hooked uver the rough pasture land to the little, weather-beaten house beyond, and deweather-beaten house beyond, and de-chled that he had never been quite so much discouraged in all his life. It had not been a very long life, it is true—only 14 years—but he felt that morning as if he had lived a great while, and to very little purpose. He wanted so many things, and had so few! More than all else, he langed for an educa-tion, or, concluding that that word ex-pressed bon much for him, for n few looks, at least. He could read, and think-over what he read even, without a brech-

The controlersy over vestmenta to the general council of the fleformed Episcopal church in New York is a curluon and suggestive highlent. The

The organization of the church aroused a great deal of attention at the time. Party warfare la the Episcopal church between the high and the law churchmen was at a white heal, and it was believed by many that most of the low churchmen would join the new organization which so fully expressed their principles, while at the same time it related the polity and many of the traditions and usages of the aid church. But for some reason or other, says the New York Tribune, this prophecy has not been fulfilled. The accessions from the Episcopal church were few, from the Episcopal church were few, and the growth of the Reformed Epis-copal church has been slow. In 1991, 21 years after its organization, it had 112 churches, 116 clergymen and 10, 655 communicants. The Iruth would appear to be that its reason for exist-ence did not powerfully appeal to aver-age people. Like the body from which it spring, it labors under the disadvan-

cetaln ennugle Episcopacy to attract people who are by temperament in-clined to the Episcopal church, and, on the other hand, it did not part with mough of its old Episcopal traditions e please those who disliked a ritual and farms and ceremoules.

As a consequence, it has never had any constituency to appeal to. The litterness of the old controversies that eached it soom died out, while at the same time there grew up in the Episeo-pal church a more comprehensive and tolerant spirit which ullayed much of the irritation that drave likshop Cum-nius and his fellow Profesiants into revolt. Could Episcopalians to-day will admit that these men were treat-ed with nunccessary harshness. How-ever that may be, it is certain that such ever that may be, it is certain that such a schbon can hardly occur in the Episcopal charch now, and in point of fact many of its members hold views not very different from those of the Historical Episcopal church.

In the meanwhile, as this vestment controversy shows, there has been growing up in the Reformed Episcopal church what may be called for convenience a high and a low-church parry. The law church clerg men have clung to the traditional black Heneva gown, while the high churchmen wore the white surplice. Apparently, the high churchmen bave been increasing of late, and a resolution has therefore just been adopted by the causell prescribing the action to a customer.

from the graved might be an excellent plan for lighting the whole of a large area, but was a very poor plan for light-ing city streets. In the average Ameriran city, with long blocks, the streets comprise nat more than one-third of the arra. Hence with the tower system of lighting 66 per cent, or more of the illuminating power is wasted in light-ing up house roofs, lack yards and vacant lots. Nearly every city of which we have information that originally adopted the lower system of lighting has abandanced it. It is therefore quite surprising to learn that Dea Molnes, Ia, proposes to put in a municipal street-lighting plant and to use the tower system. What conand to use the tower aystem. What con-sideration indicated the city authori-ties to adopt this system we do not know, but we would strongly inge-them to lavestigate the experience of Detruit and other cities with the tower system of lighting before thry cun struct such a plant in their own city.
